PILGRIMAGE OF 1959 SENIORS

By Floyd McCain, Jr.

In the fall of 1946, thirty pilgrims entered the fabulous town of Education. The town, as they first saw it, was a vast and mysterious place, full of new ideas and strange people. Entering the building of Elementary Knowledge, they found a warm and friendly teacher, Mrs. Mabel, ready to help them in this new adventure. Here, the days and months passed rapidly, and soon it was time to begin the fundamentals of reading, writing, and arithmetic. These three things, the pilgrims were told, provide the basis for advanced education, and for reaching the gates of Eternal Truth. And thus the pilgrims continued.

As the years slipped quickly by, and the dusty summers passed into cheerful memories, time beckoned the pilgrims on to a new adventure in the building of Secondary Knowledge. Here, the fellow travelers were told, was a place of new freedom in Education. After two years of preparation, the pilgrims, as freshmen, were permitted to enter the most coveted part of the building---High School. At the beginning of the school year, Rhea Sabus, a new pilgrim, was chosen to be president of the freshman class. With the Ram as the traditional emblem of strength and endurance, the pilgrims continued to blaze the trail of experience. The thrills of conference football games and wild cheering at close basketball games set the year's pace of excitement. Youth Center, held in the old armory building, was the highlight of social dancing, as well as a good place to relax after the game.

Soon a year had passed, and the pilgrims were elevated to the rank of sophomores. Rick Morain was chosen as able leader of the class. Various musical activities were held throughout the year; the operetta "Meet Arizona" was an unforgettable event. For both musical and vocal students, Contest and All-State furnished much enjoyment, along with plenty of hard work.

In 1957-58, the pilgrimage was headed by class president Mike Kidder, and all fellow travelers were now known as juniors. With the prom theme, "Around the World in 80 Days," work was begun on the big annual event. The Junior Senior Prom, provided by the junior class was, needless to say, a big success.

The sands of time shifted a year's measure, and suddenly the pilgrims became mighty seniors. For some, this was to be their last year spent in the town of Education. The events and activities passed in rapid succession, and there was little time to comprehend things of the past. In the senior class election, Cam Lyon was selected as class president. Other officers included Dave McQuillen, vice-president; Dale Cairns, treasurer; and Jim Day, secretary.

For the senior class of '59, the last year spent in the building of Secondary Education was, indeed, a busy and exciting one. The gay festivities of Homecoming, with Pat Smith as J.H.S. Queen, were hardly forgotten when it was time for the Charity Ball. Rick Morain and Janice Raaz, chosen from ten qualified attendants, reigned over this glorious event as acting King and Queen.

All of these major events, and many others, were given prominence in the Quill, directed this year by Cam Lyon. Scholastically, the pilgrim class of 1959 had proved themselves of great ability. Sixteen members appeared on the first semester honor roll, indicating the hard work expended by these students in academic achievement.

On one spring morning in May, the school year came to a close, and the pilgrims of '59 realized it was time to leave the building of Secondary Knowledge. Some of these pilgrims would seek higher portals in the town of Advanced Education; others would pass directly into the realm of Personal Experience. For all, the gates to the road of Life stood open, and the future beckoned.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY MEMBERS

GIRLS: Cam Lyon, Joyce Veenstra, Nancy Bass, Diane Bryan, Clarice Stanley.
BOYS: Floyd McCain, Bill Stidwell, Kent Hildreth, Bob Faaborg, Rick Morain.

Valedictorian - Robert Faaborg 3.97 Tied Frederick Morain - Valedictorian 3.97

Salutatorian - Nancy Bass 3.81 Tied Joyce Veenstra - Salutatorian 3.81

- I, Ron Assman, leave the small trips in ag., to almost anywhere, to Norm Middleton.
- I, Jim Ausburger, leave my wisecracks in study hall to Gary Peterson.
- I, Bruce Baker, leave my golf scores to Dee Lindsey.
- I, Gayle Bartley, leave my football position to Jim Blackburn.
- I, Gary Bass, leave my ability to manage our teams to anyone who can stand the strain
- I, Nancy Bass, leave my quiet laugh and ways to Jean Bartley.
- I, Nyla Black, leave my ability to get home on time to my brother, Orville.
- I, Ruth Bradley, leave my loud boisterous manners to Cooky Davis.
- I, Leonard Brooker, at this time can't afford to leave anything.
- I, Diane Bryan, leave my deep appreciation of the medical profession to Pat Limburg.
- I, Dale Cairns, leave my shaggy hair to Char.
- I, Jim Day, leave the Freshman girls to the Freshman boys.
- I, Dennis Hanson, leave to Chuck Stanley one well used pair of holey sweat socks. May you have many smelly moments with them.
- I, Ben Dozier, leave a 20-inch thick lead vault to Chuck for lessening the fallout from Hanson's socks.
- I, Brian Elerick, leave to Mike Brady my appreciation of the underclassmen.
- I, Bob Faaborg, leave my poor grades to Steve Walker.
- I, Carolyn Folz, leave my fun in the library to a coming Senior, Nancy Louk.
- I, Judy Harper, leave my beat up locker to whoever keeps shutting it.
- I, Steve Held, leave with my Nash (Rambler, that is).
- I, Kent Hildreth, leave my track ability to Eugene Taylor.
- I, Janet Harvey, leave my shorthand ability to Nancy Louk.
- I, Lonnie Jackson, leave my alert mind and sleepless ways to Dick Peterson.
- I, Mike Kidder, leave my devotion to minister's children to Dorothy Wilson.
- I, Darvin Kuehl, leave -- for Alaska.
- I, Cam Lyon, leave my ability to use the Quill typing paper to next year's editors.
- I, Floyd McCain, leave my ability to blast, adlib, and jam on the trumpet to Jim Russell.
- I, Merritt McIlrath, leave my ability to stick to a girl named Sharon to Dennis Dunlop.
- I, Larry McMillin, leave my science tests to the highest bidder.
- I, Dave McQuillen, leave my technique with the girls to Jim Clopton. But don't use it Jim. It doesn't work.
- I, Jim Magill, leave my jar of scraped gum to the next unlucky fellow who needs it.
- I, Mike Millard, leave my friends, personality, humor, intelligence, and looks to whoever will take them off my hands.
- I, Mary Ellen Minnihan, leave my P.T. tennis shoes to anyone with big enough feet.
- I, Rick Morain, will my basketball prowess (due chiefly to my height) to Steve Melson.
- I, Shari Morlan, leave my cheerleading outfit to Barry Martin, thus exposing his secret desire to lead cheers.
- I, Ruby Muzney, leave my ability to study in the library to Norm Middleton.
- I, Bill Nell, leave my safe driving habits to Don Pauley.
- I, Jackie Quirk, need all I have. Anyway, isn't it enough that I'm graduating?
- I, Jani Raaz, leave my size four shoes to Steve Raver. Hope they aren't too big, Steve.
- I, Charles Rice, leave my good grades and unmarked books to Don Pauley.
- I, Jim Rooney, leave nothing. I'm taking everything possible with me.
- I, Rhea Sabus, will my dimples to Ann Henkes.
- I, Frank Scheffers, will my basketball shoes to Sue Durlam.
- I, Pat Sigenthaler, will my typing ability to Katy Freeman.
- I, Connie Smith, will my position at our local theater to Kathy Schieb.
- I, Gary Smith, leave my old gum to anyone who can scrape it off the desks.
- I, Pat Smith, will my homecoming crown to some lucky Junior girl.
- I, Kent Smith, leave my talented toe to Jim Clopton.
- I, Mary Stanek, will my ability as a librarian to Kathy Schilling.
- I, Clarice Stanley, leave my step stool at the store to Steve Melson. So he too can reach the second shelf.
- I, Tim Stewart, leave my physics grades to anyone who wants them.
- I, Bill Stidwell, leave my buffalo brown Hudson to Gary Peterson.
- I, Janice Strawn, will a jar of cocoa creme I never used to Janell Kunce for freckles.
- I, Roberta Stream, leave my natural athletic ability to Craig Ditsworth.
- I, Larry Teeples, leave my great urge to study to Dick Beeman.
- I, Joe Thompson, leave to Chuck Stanley all the pop bottles in the back room of the store.
- I, Bob Thompson, leave my ability to ask tricky questions in government to Don Pauley.
- I, Clair Tomlinson, leave my Spider name, long hair, shaky legs, and guitar to John Russell.
- I, Joyce Veenstra, leave $10 worth of bubble gum on the desks.

OUR NEW GRAND PIANO

On April 26, 1959, a dream was realized in the music department of the Jefferson High School. On that date, at the annual spring concert, a new Baby Grand piano was used for the first time.

The history of this piano was a long time in the making. Three years ago, interested persons in Jefferson and surrounding area formed the 'Greene County Messiah Association' with a definite purpose in mind. One purpose was, of course, to present Handel's "Messiah" each Christmas season. The second purpose was to raise money through voluntary offerings at these performances with the purchase of a grand piano for the stage as a goal.

Director of the "Messiah" chorus for its 1956 and 1957 performances was Mrs. James Kearney of Jefferson. Miss Harriett Simons directed the Chorus in 1958. The offerings collected began to grow into a sizeable amount toward the piano. In 1958, a generous donation by Mr. Sheldon Wood of Minneapolis, former J.H.S. graduate, augmented the fund. Then in April of 1959, the Community Church Choir presented the "Seven Last Words of Christ" by DuBois and the Ministerial Association donated another welcome cash gift toward the cause. Finally through the primary efforts of Mrs. Beryl Morden, a second-hand Lyon & Healy Baby Grand piano was purchased and delivered to the school.

Many people in Greene County are to be thanked for their contributions toward such a lovely and useful addition to our school.

Spider,
Been weaving
any webs lately?
you are a wonderful guy whom I have thought a lot of. I'll always remember the good times we had together.
specially the Prom, and as I have said before, I miss those telephone calls. Take care, and don't weave all of your webs. You can at least spare one - can't you?
I wish you all of the luck in the world - I know you will go for in everything you do. Love,
Betty
